PURCHASE OF WEALTH MANAGEMENT PRODUCTS

During the Relevant Period, the Group purchased certain wealth management products which were mostly structured deposit products from Bank of China and ICBC with variable returns linked to the performance of certain linked indices which were foreign exchanges with no guarantee on the yield return.

LISTING RULES IMPLICATIONS

As one or more of the applicable percentage ratios for the purchase of certain wealth management products from Bank of China under the BOC Wealth Management Products Subscription Agreements, when aggregated, exceed 5% but are less than 25%, the transactions under the BOC Wealth Management Products Subscription Agreements, on an aggregate basis, constitute discloseable transaction(s) of the Company and are subject to the notification and announcement requirements but exempt from the shareholders' approval requirement under the Listing Rules.

As one or more of the applicable percentage ratios for the purchase of certain wealth management products from ICBC under the ICBC Wealth Management Products Subscription Agreements, when aggregated, exceed 5% but are less than 25%, the transactions under the ICBC Wealth Management Products Subscription Agreements, on an aggregate basis, constitute discloseable transaction(s) of the Company and are subject to the notification and announcement requirements but exempt from the shareholders' approval requirement under the Listing Rules.

With the mistaken beliefs that the wealth management products, mostly structured deposit products, were equivalent to bank deposits maintained by the Group in the ordinary course of business and not considered as acquisitions of assets which fall within the definition of "transaction" under Chapter 14 of the Listing Rules, the Company only disclosed such transactions by way of overseas regulatory announcements at the time of purchase of the wealth management products as mentioned in this announcement which did not comply with the applicable reporting and announcement requirements under the Listing Rules. The Board will adopt remedial measures to strengthen the relevant internal control procedures to prevent the occurrence of similar incidents in the future.

Source of funds: Idle funds from the proceeds of issuance of convertible bonds and non-public issuance of A Shares on the Shanghai Stock Exchange.

REASONS FOR AND BENEFITS OF THE PURCHASE OF WEALTH MANAGEMENT PRODUCTS

The Directors noted that the Group had idle funds from the proceeds of issuance of convertible bonds and non-public issuance of A Shares on the Shanghai Stock Exchange. In order to reasonably utilize such idle funds, enhance the efficiency in the utilization of such funds and to bring return to the Shareholders, after taking into account the normal operation funding needs and the liquidity requirements of the Group, the Directors decided to use some of the idle funds to purchase wealth management products from Bank of China and ICBC.

The wealth management products purchased from both Bank of China and ICBC were mostly akin to RMB fixed deposits, with variable interest accruing on the principal amount of the deposits. The wealth management products purchased from Bank of China and ICBC offered potential annualized rate of investment return from approximately 1.50% to 3.80% and 1.05% to 3.72%, respectively.

The Directors (including independent non-executive Directors) consider that subject to the funding needs of normal business operations of the Group, the use of temporarily idle funds for cash management will enable the Group to increase capital efficiency and better achieve capital preservation and appreciation, and the terms of both the BOC Wealth Management Products Subscription Agreements and the ICBC Wealth Management Products Subscription Agreements are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Shareholders as a whole.

INFORMATION ON THE GROUP AND THE BANKS

The Company is a joint stock company established in the PRC with limited liability, the H Shares of which are listed on the main board of the Stock Exchange and the A Shares of which are listed on the Shanghai Stock Exchange. The Group is one of the largest photovoltaic glass manufacturers globally and in the PRC, in terms of photovoltaic raw glass and processed photovoltaic glass. The Group also manufactures and sells float glass, household glass and architectural glass.

Each of Bank of China and ICBC is a licensed bank incorporated under the laws of the PRC and is engaged in commercial banking business. To the best of their knowledge, information and belief and having made all reasonable enquiries, the Directors confirm that each of Bank of China and ICBC and its ultimate beneficial
